ASSOCIATE MANAGING DIRECTOR

Matthew Garland is an Associate Managing Director with Nardello & Co.'s Asia-Pacific Practice. Based in Hong Kong, Matthew specializes in political risk consulting and intelligence-led investigations in Asia and has a particular focus on government and regulatory issues. He joined Nardello & Co. in 2018. Since first arriving in the region in 2011, he has accrued extensive investigative experience within the subregions of Greater China, Southeast Asia, and Northeast Asia.

Prior to joining Nardello & Co., Matthew served amongst the senior staff of a regional government relations consultancy, working first from company headquarters in Singapore and later from Hanoi, where he was jointly responsible for overseeing the firm's Vietnam operations. There, he helped to manage a diverse client portfolio of blue-chip companies and large industry associations, leading the development and execution of numerous on-the-ground government relations and public policy advocacy strategies. He also spearheaded a plethora of political risk assessments and strategic intelligence engagements.

Earlier, Matthew worked in Hong Kong for the regional and Greater China practices of a leading public affairs firm, as well as for the Asia Business Council, a CEO organization whose membership is comprised of the region's preeminent business leaders. Matthew first came to Asia as a Princeton in Asia Fellow and was posted to the Mekong Delta region of Vietnam.
